COTTON.

MARKET REPORT:—

The market is steadier, but there is nothing of importance to report regarding New Crop contracts. Business has been practically suspended except some Good M. G. Broach were put through, being covering of previous sales to the bazzar. There is some enquiry from Europe for early shipments of Bengals, but no actual business has resulted owing to the high prices asked for new crops.

Ready cotton is unchanged. Mills buying for their requirements.

HYDERABAD NOTES.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

HYDERABAD, SEPT. 18.

The Catholic Mission here has been unfortunate in losing two young priests in less than a week. Father Paul Montabbio died on the 11th, and Father Louis Cantaluppi on the 16th September current. Of the former mention has already been made. The body of Father Cantaluppi was removed from the Secunderabad Civil Hospital on Monday afternoon, and was laid in state at St. Mary's Cathedral. Yesterday morning long before the Office of the Dead was chanted, the Cathedral was so full that many people had to remain outside. The Requiem Mass was sung by the Very Rev. Fr. Pasquali, the officiating Administrator General of the diocese, assisted by deacons and sub-deacons and a large number of acolytes. In the middle of the Mass, Father I. Pagani, the Chudderghaut parish priest, delivered a feeling and impressive oration, which made all eyes to well with tears. After Mass, the funeral cortege formed up, consisting of several thousands, and moved from the Cathedral to the Roman Catholic cemetery at Chilkalgoodium where the mortal remains of Father Cantaluppi were laid to rest in a grave dug in the chapel at the foot of the grave of Father Richard Drake's who died in 1850 Deceased was born at Como, (Italy), in 1885 After a ten years' course in the classes, philosophy and theology, young Paul Cantaluppi was ordained priest in 1909, and came out to India in 1910, joining the Hyderabad Mission. The late Father Monthabbio, who pre-deceased him by five days, was ordained at the same time with him. Father Cantaluppi was full of promise and a most enthusiastic and pious missionary. His Lordship Vismara hardly a year ago appointed him an assistant to the parish priest of Chudderghaut, previous to which he laboured at Nalgonda and did much useful work, mastering the Telugu language in a few months. The lasting memento he has left behind in Chudderghaut is the dispensary he erected in the lines of the African Cavalry Guard. He was esteemed and loved by all classes of people.

This evening, the Inter-class Football Tournament of the All Saints High School, inaugurated this year by its Rector, came to a close. The contestants were the 5th and 6th forms, and gave an admiring crowd a vigorous display of the game. In their last encounter neither side claimed a goal and the contest ended in a draw. At the onset it looked as if the same thing were going to occur again, but after some fast and furious driving the 9th Form put in a goal which was responded to by one from their opponents. Just before the close of the half-time the 6th. Form scored another point and thus the result stood at 2 to 1. In the second half-time the 6th. Form seemed to be dispirited and certainly no luck now attended them. The 6th Form soon shot the third goal followed by another and a little before the whistle went the 5th goal was secured. They won the tournament by 5 goals to 1. Mr. J. Owen-Evans, the Headmaster of All Saints, in addressing the teams congratulated the winners and encouraged the losers by expressing the hope that they might do better next year. He then presented the Challenge Cup to the captain of the winning team and pinned a silver medal on to each of the successful players.

H. H. the Nizam and suite will return to Hyderabad next Sunday. His Highness will leave for Bombay, on the 4th proximo.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

THE HIGH COURT.

Question of Water Rights.

Mr. Justice Batchelor and Mr. Justice Rao disposed of an appeal filed by Fakirappa bin Chanvirappa Uppin and others, in a suit in which Parsapa bin Ranapa Katagar and others, sued for a perpetual injunction restraining the defendant-appellants from obstructing the flow of water to the plaintiff's land.

Mr. R. R. Desai appeared for the appellants and Mr. K. H. Kelkar appeared for the first four respondents.

The plaintiffs stated that they were the owners of the land in dispute, and that this land had been entitled to receive from time immemorial, both in summer and rains, water flowing from the Government Kharah land adjoining it. The defendants had on the 17th April, 1906, closed the canal passing through their land, and had thus illegally obstructed the flow of water into the plaintiff's land.

The defendants replied that their land was situated on a lower level than that of the plaintiffs, therefore no water could flow through their land to the plaintiffs' land. The case of the plaintiffs was a false one brought to annoy the defendants, with whom the plaintiffs had disputes.

The Subordinate Judge of Haveri observed that the defendants began with a total denial of plaintiffs' claim, while later on they admitted the flow of water from a particular corner into the plaintiffs' land. The Subordinate Judge believed the plaintiffs' evidence, and held that they were entitled to the use of the water of the canal. With regard to the question of limitation, the Subordinate Judge observed that the obstruction was said to have been caused on 17th April, 1906, and the plaint was filed on the 7th April, 1909. The right could not be described as a recurring right, as the plaintiffs sought to describe it. He accordingly held that the claim was time-barred, and dismissed the suit.

The plaintiffs appealed against this decision to Mr. Baker, the District Judge of Dharwar.

Mr. Baker held that the provisions of the Limitation Act did not exclude or interfere with the acquirement of rights, and that the obstruction of a water-course being a continuous act, the cause of action accrued "de die in diem." The plaintiffs' suit was, therefore, not time-barred, Mr. Baker reversed the decree of the lower court, and granted an injunction as prayed for.

The defendants appealed to the High Court against the above order, and their lordships, after hearing arguments, dismissed the appeal.

"PUJARI'S CLAIM.

Their lordships further disposed of an appeal in which Seth Girdharlal Harrivalabhdas and twenty others prayed that Bhat Naranlal Narotamdas may be removed from his post as pujari of a temple belonging to the members of the Vaishnaw sect at Ahmedabad. Mr. L. A. Shah appeared for the appellants, and Mr. K. N. Koyaji appeared for the respondent.

This was a suit brought by persons professing the Vaishnaw religion against the first defendant Bhat Naranlal and his wife, Bai Dhan Laxmi, alleging that a temple and the property connected with that temple, was the property of the members of the Hindu community, who belonged to the Vaishnaw sect. A worshipper had been engaged to worship the idol and take care of the temple and property belonging to the idol, and to collect and spend the revenue of the temple on the service of the temple. That, for about sixty years, the predecessors of the first defendant had acted under the orders of the Vaishnaw community. The first defendant was appointed pujari in 1907, by the Vaishnaw community. He had, however, failed to perform his duties as a pujari and trustee, had not allowed an inspection of the temple property, and had failed to render accounts.

The first defendant denied that the temple was public property and claimed that it was the property of his wife, which she had inherited from her ancestors.

Mr. Kennedy, the District Judge of Ahmedabad who tried the suit, held that as far as one could trace, the pujariship had descended by private transfer or inheritence for many years among a group of connected persons. It had not been shown that the public had anything to do with the election of the pujari or the control of the temple. The temple had no endowment, and the offerings were barely sufficient to afford maintenance to the pujari. He, accordingly, dismissed the suit with costs.

Mr. Justice Batchelor, in delivering the judgment of the Court, said this suit purported to be a suit filed under section 92 of the Civil Procedure Code with the permission of the Collector. This section provided for a suit in the case of any alleged breach of a public charitable trust. The present suit was, in the view of the court, one coming strictly within the limits of Section 92 of the Civil Procedure Code. The substantial question between the parties was whether the plaintiffs had succeeded in showing that the property was a public charitable property. The court was satisfied that the plaintiffs had succeeded in proving that the Mandir (temple) was a public charitable property, and was not as the defendants claimed their private property.

The Court, however, was of opinion that at this stage, there was no evidence, which would justify the removal of the defendants from their present office. At the same time, the Court suggested that some scheme ought to be devised in order to impose an effective control on the pujaris, who had been treating the property as their own, and manifestly stood in need of supervision.

The Court reversed the decree of the District Judge, and declared that the property in suit was a public charitable property. The case was then remanded to the District Judge, with instructions to frame a suitable scheme for the future administration of the temple.

The plaintiff-appellants were awarded their costs throughout.

BROKER'S CLAIM.

Before Mr. Justice Beaman, a suit is being proceeded with in which Nilkant Bapuji Wagle and Jehanghir Aspandiar Irani, of the Universal Agency Company, are suing the Hon. Sir Vithaldas Thakarsi, for a sum of Rs. 1,500 being commission at the rate of two per cent. on Rs. 75,000, subscribed as capital of the Chindwada Coal Syndicate Company.

Mr. H. Campbell, with Mr. J. D. Davar, instructed by Mr. Manchershah B. Chothia, appeared for the plaintiffs. Mr. Jaffer Rahimtulla, with Mr. Jehanghir Vakil, instructed by Messrs. Payne and Co. appeared for the defendant.

The case for the plaintiffs was, that in August, 1908, a prospective coal concession was granted to Mr. Padre, from whom the concession was acquired by Rai Saheb Mathuraprasad Motilal and Company. The concession was in regard to 8,807 acres of land in the Chindwada District of the Central Provinces. In order to acquire the rights of the company, a syndicate was formed by the Hon. Sir Vithaldas Thackersey, and, in this connection the plaintiffs interested themselves, and now claimed the brokerage.

The defence was that the brokerage was to be paid in shares and not in cash. In the syndicate only 560 shares of the face value of Rs. 56,000 had been subscribed; out of these 260 had been allotted to Rai Saheb Mathuraprasad, and the remaining 300 were subscribed for.

The case is proceeding.

THE POLICE COURTS.

BURGLARS CONVICTED.

Inspector Shaw on Saturday, charged Rama Daji, Gungaram Amrutta, Bapu Succaram and Ganoo Ramji, with burglary and theft of ornaments and cash to the value of Rs. 499, belonging to one Krishna Nagoo, before Mr. P. H. Dastur, Second Presidency Magistrate, at Mazagon.

The evidence showed that all the accused broke open the room of the complainant's house at Connaught Road, when he was away at work. Property worth Rs. 381 was recovered from the accused by the police.

All the accused pleaded guilty, and the first accused admitted six, and the second three previous convictions. The first accused was sentenced to 16 months', the second to one year's and the third and fourth to four months' rigorous imprisonment respectively.

HAD BAD ECZEMA ON BOTH HANDS

Unable to Do the Slightest Thing. Irritation Almost Drove Her Mad. Cuticura Remedies Cured Her. No Return of Complaint Since.

"About twenty-six years ago I had a very bad attack of eczema on both hands and unable to do the slightest thing. I did not know what to do for relief. The eczema appeared on the backs of both hands and between the fingers in the form of small pimples which were filled with a clear fluid, the hands being very much swollen and the irritation so bad that it almost drove me mad.

"This state of things went on for a long time and I kept on trying all kinds of remedies without deriving any benefit from them. At last, seeing an advertisement about Cuticura Remedies, I decided to give them a trial. I therefore sent for a set of the three remedies, Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent, value 7s. 9d. and soon obtained relief. I continued using them and they entirely cured me. My hands were entirely healed and although it is now twenty-six years ago that I was cured, I am happy to say that I have never once had the slightest return of this distressing complaint, thanks to the Cuticura Remedies which I must say ought to be in every home." (Signed) Mrs. Sheldrake, 36, Upland Road, Ipswich, England, July 12, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment afford the speediest and most economical treatment for itching, burning bleeding, and crusted skin and scalp humours, of young and old. THE BALKANS.

A power stronger than the influence of the great nations is now operating for the preservation of peace in the Balkans. With the passage of each week at this season of the year the danger of the expected conflagration diminishes. For it is in spring that the thoughts of young nationalities turn to war, and the Danubian principalities are the first in Europe to feel the effect of nature's quickening forces. A clever drawing in "Punch" a short while ago represented an English officer of Hussars hoping that the next war in which England was engaged would come between the hunting and the polo; and that is the season when trouble is to be apprehended in the Balkan peninsula. England itself with its settled constitution does not escape the influence of the weather in politics, nor does its situation in the cool northern seas preserve it altogether from the changes wrought by returning solar warmth. It is not until midsummer is past and the sun's rays have beaten for many days upon land and water that discontent spreads and social upheavals are threatened in the British Isles; but the season can be fairly well defined. This year, the coldest on record, there has been no talk of a general strike at home and little news of strikes of any kind except among a few railway clerks whose work is indoors; and people may take it as some consolation for spoilt holidays and wasted harvests, that nature has intervened with copious rain to allay agitation and to make the proletariat think. And the agencies of climate which intermittently affect the social conditions even in temperate coasts, are both strong and regular in the storm—centre of Europe.

In a land of mountains where snow falls in winter and bitterly cold winds sweep along the plains and valleys, the warlike spirit is apt to subside with the approach of autumn and its indications of a severer time to come; and in the Balkans where the extremes of heat and cold are greater than anywhere else in Europe, statesmen have long learned to look in time of threatened strife for the coming of winter as the guarantee of peace. The Powers are now exerting all their authority to control the separated portions of the Bulgar nation and to prevent the armed and independent kingdom from fighting for the relief of their brethren in Macedonia; and nowhere, not even in the plains of India, will the first signs of the cold weather be so welcome this year as in the capitals of eastern Europe. The difficulty of restraining Bulgaria becomes greater every year; but if by remonstrances and promises the Slavic demands can be satisfied and Slavic ambitions diverted for but a few weeks more, peace will be secure for another year at least. Time will thus be gained. But the same problem will present itself again, and unless the wisdom of the Powers can devise a settlement the disturbance will certainly some day come. It is significant of the changes that have occurred in a single generation that we no longer speak of Turkey-in-Europe as our fathers did to denote the whole country south of the Danube, and that we now call it instead the Balkans or the Balkan peninsula. The Turks are disappearing from kingdoms that they once ruled over, and the assertion of nationality among the Christian states becomes more definite each year, and when the torrents of spring rush again in their veins, it will be a difficult task to keep the Balkan peoples in check.

The winter is short; and when throughout the greater part of Europe the land and the people are still hibernating, the sap is flowing in the Balkan flora, and the heterogeneous population is wondering what new-thing is this year to befall. For some years now it has seemed as if events were moving towards the formation of a Balkan confederacy. That was in Beaconsfield's mind in assisting to draft the Treaty of Berlin. Besides conserving as much as possible of the Turkish empire, he hoped that the re-arrangement of boundaries and sovereignties sanctioned by the treaty would create a barrier of independent nationalities between Russia and Constantinople; and the condition of the Balkan States to-day is a tribute to the prescience of that remarkable men. If he could have foreseen the rise of Bulgaria he would not probably have opposed its complete independence and its extension of territory as he did for Turkey's sake. At that time the cause of Bulgaria seemed to be only another name for Russian designs, and the creation of a large and united kingdom of that name seemed to Europe to be only a scheme for bringing Russian influence to the banks of the Bosphorus. But the spread of national ideas and the resulting solidarity of the Bulgarian people have put a different aspect upon the aspirations of their statesmen. They are not now, if they ever were, dominated by Russian statecraft although Russian favour is naturally still the strongest enternal influence in Bulgarian policy. There seems no cause to disbelieve that they are patriots striving to do their best for a country with a history and a destiny of its own. The success which has so far attended Bulgaria in politics and in war as well as in the development of the country, has encouraged the national instinct. The Bulgarian people are tenacious. It is said by those who know them that they are a vigorous and stalwart race not so easily excited as some of their neighbours. This character makes their present attitude all the more dangerous. Apparently they are ready if the Powers will let them to try conclusions with Turkey; and that is just what the Powers most interested do not wish to happen. For success in a war with Turkey, which is however by no means a certainty, would lead not only to the annexation to Bulgaria of Macedonia but to Bulgarian hegemony in the affairs of the peninsula.

Remarkable Marine Case. Panama is much in people's mouths. It has now been the scene of an extraordinary case, which has aroused much indignation in the merchant service in London and which we have no doubt will be similarly received by ship's officers in Bombay and other ports throughout the world. The case concerns Captain Campbell and his mate of the s. s. "Taboga," who have been tried and sentenced in Panama for deliberately casting away their ship. Captain Campbell, however, has managed to get away and is now in Liverpool pressing the authorities to see that justice is done to him and to his chief officer. The latter, who is named Matthews, is lying in hospital in Panama. The facts of the trial we give according to the version of the London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian. He says, "The extraordinary thing about the case is that the two men were actually tried and acquitted by the Criminal Court in Panama, and then, under the strange legal procedure of the country, the prosecution were allowed not only to reverse this decision on appeal, but to get a fresh verdict of twelve years' imprisonment and a heavy fine." We are glad to hear that the Foreign Office has taken up the case promptly, and it is believed that an appeal against the conviction will be entertained. In countries, which are more civilized than the Central American States, negligence in the navigation of a ship, involving only an error of judgment, is not treated as a criminal offence. The officer is considered to be sufficiently punished by the suspension or cancellation of his certificate. Therefore, the general feeling at Home is, very properly, that unless the two men can be proved deliberately to have thrown away their ship the very drastic sentence, which has been passed, should not be permitted to be carried out. Captain Campbell states that it is entirely untrue that he deliberately lost the ship. He was in the water himself for two hours and was very nearly drowned. Now that the Foreign Office is acting in the matter, we trust that the justice which he will obtain will not be tardy.

Armenian Woes. The Armenians are an unhappy people and have been so ever since Shah Abbas of Persia, in 1604, surrendered their country to the Turks. The people of the Turkish province have had a grievous burden to bear, and the stories of the atrocities, which have from time to time been practised on them, have frequently aroused the indignation of Europe. Since the changed regime in Turkey was inaugurated, however, there appears to have been an improvement in the treatment of the Armenians by the Turks, and as a consequence we have heard less of them. But recently news came through that the Kurds, very old enemies indeed, have broken into fresh activities and the Porte is charged with making no effort to suppress them. The Patriarch of Constantinople has resigned by way of protest, and the Armenian National Assembly has said the customary hard things regarding their over lords. When the Near Eastern question comes to a settlement, as we presume it will some day, one of the problems involved will doubtless be the future of the Armenians. The Treaty of Berlin transferred a considerable portion of the Province to Russian rule, and, generally speaking. Russia has treated her new subjects well. But there is little doubt that when the time comes the Armenians will make a bold bid for independence. The two great revolutionery societies, with headquarters in Geneva and Paris have been steadily preparing the way, and if Turkey is assailed on her European frontier the conflagration will surely spread to Asia Minor. Whether the Armenian aspirations to independence will ever be realized is another matter; but we may be sure that the opportunity of attempting to reach them will not be flung away, when it is presented.

The Italian Anniversary. Whatever view may be taken of the Italian action in Tripoli, whether it was right or wrong, few will judge the people the satisfaction of celebrating the first entry into Rome of the Italian troops. This important event in the history of the country occurred on the 20th of September 1870—that is forty-two years ago, so that the Italians and Germans, as a united people, are so to speak twins. It is interesting to recall that on the day before Cardona actually entered the City Pope Pius IX instructed his General Kanzler to offer only a formal defence and to avoid bloodshed. As a matter of fact, however, for once the Holy See failed to obtain complete obedience from its servants, for the Papal troops offered a brief resistance, and before the national troops could claim the city considerable losses on both sides had been sustained. Since then, and up to the present war, Italy has passed through many vicissitudes. War, pestilence and famine has each played its part and the people can be said to have come up out of great tribulation. At the moment Italy has a war on hand. This debateable matter, however, need not be considered now, for it is a time for congratulation rather than for recrimination, and the past friendship of the Italian people with ourselves is a strong reason indeed for association with them in their anniversary celebrations.

Navigation of the Hooghly. Whatever may be the relative positions of Bombay and Calcutta from the points of view of commercial standing and political importance, Calcutta has the distinct disadvantage of being separated from the sea by a long river, guilty of constant vagary and prolific of many difficulties in navigation. In each year there is a certain period, during which the difficulties are accentuated, but according to a message from our correspondent, published in our telegram columns on Saturday, this year the trouble seems to have come earlier and to be more threatening. The situation, it is stated, has revived the talk of a ship canal from Kidderpore to Diamond Harbour, an exceedingly expensive project, but one which would cut off all the dangerous sand-bars, and render the port easily accessible all the year round. Whatever the solution of this rapidly deepening problem may be, it is worth recalling that during the past twenty years the opinion has often been expressed that the construction of the docks at Kidderpore was a blunder, and that if originally they had been placed at Diamond Harbour the project would have been as easily carried out as any other. At certain times of the year it is not rare that ships take two, and sometimes three days, to cover the distance from Calcutta to Saugor, and most, if not all of the delay, occurs above Diamond Harbour. It will be interesting to the mercantile and seafaring communities to watch this problem, for it is one which affects them deeply.

H. E. the Viceroy is spending the week end shooting in the Dhami jungles.

Sir Robert Carlyle, member for Revenue and Agriculture, will probably make his autumn tour in Burma.

A report has been received from home of the death of Lieut.-Colonel A. A. M. M. Faulkner, Cantonment Magistrates' Department.

Authoritative information has been received, a Poona message says, that the Hon. Mr. Gokhale adheres to his intention not to accept the Presidency of the Congress this year.

The annual report of the Indian Telegraph Department will be issued shortly. It will show a profit on the year's working of about 1·7 per cent. on capital outlay.

It is understood that a proposal for amalgamating the Indian and Home Ordnance Departments is being submitted to the Secretary of State for approval.

Lieut-General Sir A. A. Pearson will vacate the command of the Lahore Division on the conclusion of his privilege leave on the 29th of October. Major-General Watkis will then be transferred from Peshawar to Lahore.

Burglaries in the European houses and shops in Calcutta have of late alarmingly increased, and a feeling of insecurity prevails among the shop keepers, particularly jewellers. The report of no less three burglaries in one night have reached the police, who are making vigorous enquiries to arrest the culprits.

The final forecast of the Jute crop for 1912 was issued at noon yesterday. The final figures for creage show an increase in Bengal of 202,250 acres. Behar returns an increase of 40,222 acres, and Assam an in increase of 4,922. The grand total of the increase for the three provinces is 247,391 acres, and the percentage of the increase 7.9 per cent. The final total out turn for Bengal works out at 8,502,135 bales against 7,289,582 of last year, while Behar with a total of 792,897 bales shows an increase of 87,412 bales and Assam a decrease of 12,930 on the total of 226,797 bales.

Work in connection with the new Pasteur Institute at Maymyo, towards which the public subscribed close upon two lakhs of rupees three or four years ago, is to be started shortly. There is to be one pucca building, 136ft. by 56ft. and laboratory, operating room, Director's or's and Assistant Director's bungalows, incubator rooms, inoculation room, dispensary, rabies-houses and other necessary rooms. All the buildings will be lighted with petrol gas, and fitted and furnished on the most modern type. It is to be hoped that the work of construction will be expedited for at present the people of Burma are being put to much inconvenience and expense having to proceed to Coonoor and Kasauli for the treatment of rabies.

NOTES FROM LONDON.

REVOLT AGAINST SIR EDWARD GREY.

Persia and Tibet.

[BY "ASIATICUS".]

LONDON, Sept. 6.

We have had better weather in England this week, but the recent deluges have left deep traces. Despairing reports come from the rural districts, particularly in the Eastern counties. A national fund is being raised for the sufferers at Norwich, where many houses will have to be rebuilt. Even now we do not know whether "the plague of waters" is really stayed, for our weather prophets declare that September will be a wet month too. The week has been very quiet politically. The Trades Union Congress is holding its annual gathering at Newport, but the meetings have been uncommonly dull. Even the redoubtable Ben Tillett roared as gently as any sucking dove. One ought not to sneer at this moderation, especially after the labour troubles of the last twelve months; but one is entitled to draw the moral that the leaders of labour are in chastened mood just now.

Abroad, the Continent of Europe is comparatively quiet. There are strong rumours of an early peace between Turkey and Italy. The Kaiser, who has recently been ill, is now affably hob-nobbing with Swiss burgomasters, and saying nice things to the Swiss Army at its manœuvres. The customary rumours of war drift westward from the Balkans, but do not produce even the most languid thrill. The Balkans are very like Stromboli, where you can always see a little smoke coming out of the crater, a little red lava running down the slopes. I have ridden across the Balkans more than once, and though, under advice. I kept an (unloaded) revolver strapped ostentatiously round my waist, I found those celebrated mountains unexciting. But they seem more menacing at a distance, and are like manna in the wilderness to a journalist destitute of topics.

The Balkans are, in fact, an unfailing source of copy to the newspapers. They are like the widow's cruse for they never run dry. "Will you please take the Balkans to-night. Sir?" is the message which in the dull season constantly greets the leader-writer, as he sits in a London-newspaper office dreaming of blue seas and yellow beaches. The habit is not unknown even in Anglo-Indian journalism, and if you watch your favourite newspaper closely you will probably observe that "the Trouble in the Balkans" begins to figure in the leading columns with suspicious frequency somewhere about the middle of the rains. The great joy of the Balkan question is that it is like bimetallism, because nobody really understands it. I have seen the Balkans I have traversed their defiles and crossed their famous passes, I have wandered over their battlefields I have rows of books about them, I have written innumerable portentous articles upon Balkan problems, and yet I am bound to declare that my views about the future of the Balkans are as hazy as ever. I do not blush to make this confession, for I firmly believe that my state of mind is shared by every statesman in Europe. All my life I have been told that something is going to happen in the Balkans, but nothing ever does happen. No doubt we shall realise some day that the cry of "Wolf" has at last been raised in real earnest.

THE RADICAL REVOLT.

But while foreign politics are tolerably quiet there are signs that we shall witness an explosion in Parliament about British foreign policy when the new session begins. The Radical revolt against Sir Edward Grey is growing really formidable. Many prominent Liberals of the tea-and-muffin variety are now associated with it. Most of the leading Liberal papers are attacking the Foreign Secretary almost daily with steady persistent violence. The "Manchester Guardian" appears every morning with a ferocious indictment, based upon affairs in China or Persia or Turkey or Egypt. The "Daily News and Leader," the "Daily Chronicle," and the minor Radical sheets follow suit after their fashion. The "Westminster Gazette" stands apart, but is plainly uncomfortable, and is also strongly pro-German, as becomes a journal owned by a foreign baronet named Mond.

The campaign has a dual origin. It is in part a heritage from the fatuously kindly days of Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman, who fancied that if he said to Germany "Please stop building warships and training soldiers," we might "scrap" our Army and Navy, and spend the money on what is euphemistically called "social legislation." Many Liberals of the type of the late Samuel Morley cherish these views still.

They crave for "a better understanding" with Germany, and wish us to break our friendship with France and Russia. To carry on their propaganda effectively, it is necessary that they should attack that somewhat obsolete instrument, the Anglo-Russian Convention, with audacious vigour. Events in Persia and Tibet give them plenty of chances. The other half of their inspiration is derived from hazy memories of Garibaldi and Kossuth and the Bulgarian agitation of the seventies. They think that a constitutional system which suits England very well must be equally well suited for Teheran and Peking. They are annoyed that Sir Edward Grey and his practical and experienced advisers do not think likewise. Everything that Russia does is anathema, everything that the British Government propose is clouded with suspicion. We have travelled far from the days when the great Slav Power was "Holy Russia" to Mr. Gladstone.

This revolt within the ranks of Liberalism is far more than a mere cave of Adullamites. It is becoming a big and serious force. Most of the labour members belong to it, and many of the Irish also. It is bound to produce a big controversy as soon as Parliament meets. The Radical malcontents are determined to smash up the Triple Entente if they can, and to revert to the old policy of "No alliances." Few of these men have any sense of history. They live in a whirling and wordy present, and never look to the past. They are utterly unconscious of the fact that the doctrine of the Balance of Power is almost the oldest surviving doctrine in British political history; that it was first framed at the Norman Conquest, after these islands had endured four successive invasions; and that it has only been temporarily abandoned when England was weak, or badly ruled or torn by internal dissensions, or when the relations of continental Powers made alliances inadvisable. Such is not the case to-day. The menace of Germany is now the most potent factor in Europe. We may yet see the members of the Opposition voting with the Cabinet in support of the Triple Entente against a phalanx of Liberals who seek to destroy it.

THE CASE OF PERSIA.

The trouble in Parliament will arise in the first place over Persia. Radical opinion has been much inflamed by the publication of Mr. Morgan Shuster's remarkable book, "The Strangling of Persia," which to the uninformed will probably seem an unanswerable indictment of Russian and British policy in the lands of the Shah. I am bound to confess that one lays the volume down with a strong pre-possession in favour of Mr. Shuster. He is evidently a strong, earnest, honourable man, with the sort of vision which sees straight ahead, but never includes in its gaze things on the right hand or on the left. Had Mr. Shuster been more experienced either in the ways of the East or in the ways of diplomacy, he would have seen that from the moment he took up an attitude hostile to Russia and Great Britain he was bound to fail. He regarded the Persian problem with much artlessness as a simple business proposition. He had been engaged by the Mejliss to reorganise Persian finances and, in a sense, to regenerate the Persian Administration. "Try well," he said in effect, "I will take my orders from the Mejliss and from no one else. The Mejliss doesn't recognise the Anglo-Russian Convention, does'n't it? All right, I won't recognise is either." He never realised until too late that the Mejliss was a feeble and incompetent body, that he was acting unwisely in antagonising two great Powers, and that when he flouted Russia he was asking for his own overthrow. The ingenuous American in Asiatic politics is extremely childlike, though he rarely remains bland for very long. Mr. Shuster lost his temper in the end, as the indiscreet condemnations in his book plainly show.

He never perceived that the fault lay primarily with himself. He never understood that the roots of the interests of Great Britain and Russia in Persia lie buried deep in history. He knew nothing, apparently, of the British fleets which sailed the Persian Gulf three centuries ago, of the British missions to Persia a century ago, of the British war with Persia in the fifties. He confesses that he started from America with Professor Browne's emotional and misleading book on the Persian Revolution in his "grip." That was the extent of his preparation for the reconstruction of one of the most ancient Empires in the world, an Empire which is now almost as desecrated and lifeless as an Egyptian mummy. Professor Browne, whose knowledge of Persia was obtained more than twenty years ago, was about as ardent and unwise a guide as any innocent financier could have chosen. But Mr. Shuster, having evidently come to certain conclusions on the voyage, went no farther with his investigations into history. He plunged into his task just as he would have undertaken the management of a big department store. He believed, and still believes, that the East could be hustled; he says so in his book. And with all his manifestly admirable qualities, he came to grief in Persia just as hopelessly as Mr. Clifford Lloyd failed in Egypt in the early days of the British occupation.

WHAT CAN BE DONE?

Mr. Shuster's account of his experience is exactly the kind of narrative which sets on fire the heart of the eager, ignorant, emotional, uninformed Radical who thinks Teheran must be very like Preston or Leeds. It has excited thousands of such men already, They are clamouring for the resignation of Sir Edward Grey. They will clamour still more when the House of Commons reassembles. But what do they think Sir Edward Grey could have done? Let me state the situation nakedly. The real point at issue, for Great Britain, even in Teheran, is not Persia at all. We have to think of ourselves first, and Persia afterwards. Our primary duty our only vital duty, is to maintain the British Empire unimpaired, and to protect these ultimate islands which represent its heart. We can no longer undertake that task unaided. We have rarely done so in the past. We, and other nations, had almost always been mutually interdependent. Our security has rested upon our friendships abroad, upon the intimation to the world that ourselves and other nations were prepared jointly to restrain aggressive action on the part of our enemies. Sometimes we have been united with one set of Powers, sometimes with another.

At present the basis of our foreign policy is furnished by the Entente with Russia and France. Our policy is thus shaped because the formidable strength of Germany constitutes the greatest danger to peace, and all our efforts to come to a friendly understanding with the German Government have proved fruitless. Supposing we terminated the Anglo-Russian Convention, where should we find ourselves? France would follow Russia, and we should be left isolated. We could not even then order Russia out of Persia, for, as Sir Edward Grey said in the House of Commons, we cannot send an army to Teheran. And would Persia be better off if we parted company with Russia? Those Radicals who fancy that representative government if the one panacea for all administrative ills the wide world over think that she would. They say that if the Mejliss is reconstituted, if we lend Persia a big sum of money without bothering much about security and if we leave her to stand alone, she could then save herself. The most striking refutation of these contentions will be found in the pages of Mr. Shuster's book. A more vivid picture of internal corruption and inefficiency has never been penned. That Persia can now be saved from within seems beyond credibility.

THE CASE OF TIBET.

The Radical malcontents are on far weaker ground when they turn to the case of Tibet. The whole of the agitation about Tibet has really been based upon two or three leading articles in "The Times," By a coincidence which was presumably accidental, "The Times" began to call attention to the condition of affairs in Tibet. It pointed out that China had undertaken, in effect, to protect the autonomy of Tibet, and to preserve the Tibetan Government. In defiance of these obligations, China had first destroyed the Tibetan Government, and then substituted sovereignty for suzerainty. Now that the Tibetans had reasserted themselves, "The Times" considered that the moment had come for Great Britain to insist on the preservation of her treaty rights. The Lhasa Treaty, which had been endorsed by China, contemplated the maintenance of relations with a Tibetan Government. We were entitled to insist that Tibet should not be again overrun by marauding Chinese troops; and it would be well if we had a British representative in Lhasa, with a small escort, to negotiate direct with the Tibetan authorities, in conjunction with the Chinese Resident, whenever occasion arose.

PERSIAN AFFAIRS.

Series of Conversations at Balmoral.

GREATER POWER FOR BRITAIN.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

TEHERAN, Sept. 20.

M. Sazonoff, the Russian Foreign Minister, arrived at Victoria station this evening, and was received by the Russian Ambassador and representatives of Sir Edward Grey and the Foreign Office.

At the moment of arrival a man rushed towards the carriage flourishing a placard and shouting "Clear out of Persia. Down with Russia."

The man was seized by detectives.

LONDON, Sept. 21.

The man, who made a demonstration on the arrival of M. Sazonoff, has been released as a harmless crank.

LONDON, Sept. 21.

M. Sazonoff, the Russian Foreign Minister, confers with Sir Edward Grey at the Foreign Office to-day. They will probably journey together to Balmoral afterwards, where there will be a series of conversations to which the papers attach great importance, anticipating that they will result in an amplification of the Entente, chiefly affecting Persia.

The Times, yesterday, urged the revision of the Convention relating to Persia, in order to give Great Britain a freedom in the South, similar to that exercised by Russia in the North,

The Daily News to-day denounces the Times for what it describes as its impudent and cynical proposal to share the spoils. The journal says that the Liberals have too long been loyal to the Government in this respect, and must insist upon fulfilment of the agreement, making Russia's withdrawal of her troops a condition of retaining British co-operation.

The Daily Chronicle says that however unwilling Sir Edward Grey may be to extend our responsibilities in Persia, circumstances may be too strong, and definite action must be taken to prevent complete anarchy.

TEHERAN, Sept. .

Salar-ed-Dauleh and Mahomed Khan have evacuated Kermanshah, which is occupied by the Government forces under Firman Firma. The opposing forces did not meet.

BRITISH MANŒUVRES.

Continued Discussion on the Utility of Aeroplanes.

LONDON, Sept. 20.

The discussion on the utility of aroplanes during the recent British manœuvres still continues. There is now a tendency to regard the performances as inconclusive on the ground that there were regulations forbidding the opposing machines to approach one another, while in warfare they would constantly attempt to destroy one another with a view to preventing information being obtained. Some urge that for the future regulations should be framed to provide that aircraft getting into certain positions should be considered to have put their opponents out of action.

CHINESE FINANCE.

Should Six-Power Group be Given Support?

REFUSAL OF ITS TERMS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Sept. 20.

The Chinese loan syndicate to-day paid the final instalment of its half-million sterling advance to China against Treasury bills.

It has been decided to issue the first half of the loan, namely, five millions, at a price of 95 this year, and the remainder within the next twelve months.

LONDON, Sept. 21.

The advantages or disadvantages, justice or injustice, of supporting the Six-Power Loan group is the subject of much discussion in the Press and in financial circles.

The Spectator denounces Radical criticisms of Sir Edward Grey on the subject, declaring that Britain is the best friend China has in the group, and is better able to help her inside than outside.

The Economist takes the opposite view and emphasises the absurdity of Britain sending the bulk of the money, and getting only a sixth of the control. "Nobody," this paper adds, "would regret the collapse of the combination."

The Times, which has hitherto shown a tendency to support the Six-Power group, admits to-day that it is unlikely that the present monopoly, to which much legitimate exception is taken, will be maintained much longer.

PEKING, Sept. 21.

The Minister of Finance has categorically refused the terms of the Six-Power Group's loan, which provide for strong security and supervision, and the option of future loans during the ensuing five years.

CABLE-CUTTING IN PERSIA.

Kashgais Operating on Big Scale.

DEFIANCE OF GENDARMERIE.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

KARACHI, Sept. 21.

News from Bushire says that the Kashgais, one of the most unruly of the brigand tribes of Southern Persia, have again cut the Indo-European cable between Bushire and Shiraz, and this time the damage is serious. Some weeks ago the Kashgais, smarting under a sense of wrong, arising out of what they called foreign interference with their hereditary privileges, by which they meant suppression of brigandage by the newly constituted Swedish gendarmerie, threatened reprisals in the direction of cable-cutting. The threat was not taken very seriously, and although as a fact the wires have since then been cut a score of times, they have been repaired no less perseveringly, and thus communication has somehow been maintained. But for the last ten days, cable communication between Bushire and Shiraz has entirely ceased, and it is evident that the Kashgais have now learnt how to be mischievous on a more serious scale. The fact that these tribesmen feel that it is safe for them thus to defy the Swedish gendarmarie confirms the view that measures of a much stronger and more resolute kind will be required, before order and security can be established in southern Persia.

ALTERCATION IN COURT.

Amusing Incident at Hyderabad.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

HYDERABAD, Sept. 21.

A deal of interest has been aroused in legal circles regarding the case in which one B' Narayana Rao, pleader, was recently fined Rs. 200 or in default one month's imprisonment. It appears that Narayana appeared in a case, Anantharam Rao vs. Neemchand, before Nawab Zulkader Jung Bahadur in the Hyderabad Civil High Court, Original Side, when he appears to have offended the Jung, who in his judgment says:—

"In the case of Anantaram Rao vs. Neemchand a witness was being examined. Although the pleader was ordered several times not to interfere during the examination of the witness, the pleader did not obey but continued interfering, and did not desist from his actions. When the pleader was submitting the law he was told by the court, 'The court knows more law than you.' In answer to which the pleader for the plaintiff said in open court in a very loud tone, 'Perhaps the court knows'. What the pleader said amounts to contempt of court. Therefore on account of the above offence he has been fined Rs. 200. After this order had been communicated to him, Mr. Narayana Rao disrespectfully and with contempt said that the court had no right, and committed contempt of court. Therefore on account of the above offence it is hereby ordered that Narayana Rao is to pay the fine of Rs, 200 or in default to undergo one month's simple imprisonment."

Against this conviction Narayana appealed to the Full Bench on the grounds: (a) that the judgment was opposed to law and procedure; (b) the lower court neither gave the appellant any opportunity to make a statement nor recorded any statement; (c) the appellant's interference in the proceedings was neither extraordinary or against law as to warrant the action of the judge; (d) no court can without sufficient cause prohibit pleader's interference in proceedings; (e) the record was defective in that the obligation to record the nature of the interruption together with the reasons for its prohibition was not obeyed. The appellant further states that he was during the course of the writing of the judgment forcibly taken into police custody, and he was not released for two hours even after paying the fine. The learned judge had moreover said to him with a degree of warmth: "Only two pies tinsel; you are misbehaving like a worthless fellow."

The Full Bench, after hearing arguments, asked the appellant to submit his written statement, which has been done.

Judgment will be passed on the 26th instant.

BIG CROPS IN SIND.

KARACHI, Sept. 21.

Crop reports continue to astonish the trading community. From every quarter comes the same news. The crops are the finest and the largest on record. Food crops are splendid, and wheat prospects are magnificent. The cotton crop is the largest ever known whilst the beet sugar crop has beaten all previous figures. How prices are likely to move in the face of abundant supplies from all sides nobody can say. Ordinarily large supplies mean a week market and falling prices, but like everything else supplies of money are so plentiful that the abundance of goods is neutralised by an abundance of buyers. On the whole, prices are steady and the outlook satisfactory in the extreme.

BIG GANG OF DACOITS.

Miniature Battle occurs in Burma.

ATTACK ON A VILLAGE.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

RANGOON, Sept. 22.

A rather serious outbreak is reported from the district of Henzada. There had been rumours for some time past that a large gang of dacoits was being got together to attack Zalun and Danabyu, and information to this effect was conveyed to the District Superintendent of Police. Hindustani military police were transferred to Henzada and Sikhs were sent down to relieve them on the evening of the 17th instant. Information was sent to the Deputy Commisisoner that Zalun would be attacked that night. However the attack did not come off. On the morning of the 18th, information was received that the dacoits of whom there were said to be some eighty men, were attacking Myokha village about four miles, below Zalun and that the township officer, Maung Po Sine, and the Additional Magistrate of Zalun, with ten military policemen had gone out after them. On receipt of this information the Deputy Commissioner gave orders for thirty military policemen to be got ready to start for Zalun at once and the launch "Henzada" was ordered to get up steam. Whilst steam was being got up a report was brought in that the telegraph wires to Zalun had been cut. and that the township officer, Maung Po Sine. had engaged the dacoits and that a fight was in progress. Just then the steam launch "Kamaing" with the Forest Officer, who was returning in it from tour, was seen coming down the river. The Deputy Commissioner had gone out on another dacoity that morning, Information had been sent to the D. S. P. and the Assistant Commissioner of the rising.

Later news showed that Maung Po Sine had killed four, wounded four and captured twelve dacoits. By the time the Deputy Commissioner got down to Zalun the affair was over and the dead, wounded and the captured were brought over to Zalun. The remainder of the gang scattered and could not be traced.

It appears that the leader of the gang is a man who goes under the name of Gamon Saya, and had been getting together the gang for some time past. Each member had to pay an entrance fee and had to take an oath, when he got some charms and a uniform Gamon was assisted by Maung Kyouk Thyugyi of a village, who supplied the dacoits with provisions. In the fight Maung Kyouk and a son of Gamon were killed, but Gamon himself escaped with the remainder of the gang. The captured men have made full confessions and have given out the names of all the members, of the gang. The police hope to bag the whole gang soon.

SILLAHADAR CAVALRY.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

ALLAHABAD, Sept. 22.

Arrangements, under which the lines of the Sillahadar cavalry regiments will be taken over and maintained by the State, should work well as the rent to be charged, Rs. 415 per month, is a reasonable amount. In future the Military Works Services will be responsible for maintenance, and units will know exactly what their liabilities are. The building of new lines for the Indian Cavalry and Infantry by the Military Works, Agency is being steadily proceeded with, the scheme beigg to deal with 21 regiments per annum, and real economy should be effected in the long run. By this procedure the troops will be comfortably housed, and the men will appreciate the change, under which they will not be called upon to do any line building.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

KAISER IN SWITZERLAND.

Tsar and Cryptograms.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

PARIS, Sept. 7.

The German Emperor arrived on the manœuvring ground, near Wil (Canton Aargau), at half-past fiv on Thursday morning, and received an enthusiastic reception from the crowd which had gathered, despite the early hour. His Majesty proceeded in a motor-car to the Oelberg situated to the north of Wil, where he was joined shortly after seven o'clock by Dr. Forrer, the President of the Swiss Confederation, and Herr von Bulow, the German Minister in Berne. The high ground of the Oelberg and the surroundings had been fortified during the night by a Red division, which was to be attacked by a Blue division coming from the south-west of Wil. After skirmishing between outposts during the night, the action began at six o'clock this morning with an artillery duel. Rain again began to fall, and the number of civilian visitors was considerably reduced in consequence. After an assault on the position by the whole of the Blue division, which was cleverly handled and was victorious on the left wing, the order to cease fire was given at 9.10. After the manœuvres the Emperor and the President, who watched the operations from the heights of the Oelberg, had the members of the foreign military missions presented to them. Luncheon was subsequently served on the manœuvring ground for the Emperor, the foreign offices, and the other invited guests, after which the distinguished party returned to Zurich by special train at 10.45 after a renewed outburst of hearty cheers from the assembled crowds. The troops which had taken part in the manœuvres began to leave for their cantonments at half-past nine. The fine bearing of the men was the subject of general remark.

Zurich was reached by the German Emperor at noon, and after taking a cordial farewell of the President and the other Swiss notabilities, his Majesty returned by motor-car to the Villa Reitberg amid the cheers of the assembled crowd. On Thursday night, the Kaiser entertained his suite and the Swiss officers attached to him at dinner at the Villa Rietberg and subsequently went on board the steamer Ville de Zurich, and attended a Venetian fete organised in his honour. The lakeside was illuminated, and there was a lavish display of fireworks. Enormous crowds enthusiastically cheered his Majesty, who returned to the villa about nine o'clock. As a souvenir of his visit the Emperor has offered the Federal Council a porcelain clock in Rococo style from the Royal Porcelain Factory at Kadinen. It will be placed in the Federal Palace at Berne.

SEDAN: A RETROSPECT.

The Emperor celebrated the eve of Sedan Day by attending service in the open air of the Tempelhoferfeld. His Majesty was accompanied by the Empress, Princess Victoria Louise, and Prince and Princess Eitel Freidrich. The scarlet Imperial marquee was set up in the midst of a huge square formed by detachments of all the regiments of the Guards and the Third Army Corps. Behind the troops, members of the Veterans' Associations were drawn up in a serried array, their silk hats and frock coats contrasting curiously with the brilliant uniforms of the soldiers.

Their Majesties listened to a stirring military sermon, in which the preacher, recalling the significance of the day, said Germany was defended on land by the army, while the navy protected the Empire and its commerce on the seas. He doubted not if war came to-morrow, every German would be ready with his life, but he animadverted upon the confusion in internal politics and the egoism of parties, which forgot that obedience is the Christian's glory. The impressive ceremony was concluded by a march past. Huge crowds thronged the approaches to the field. His Majesty subsequently attended the celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of the dedication of the Church of St. Sophia, in the north of Berlin. Speaking at the banquet given in the evening to the Brandenburg notables at the Royal Castle, the Emperor said:—"I think we can be satisfied with the conditions prevailing to-day, in spite of the imperfections which must attach indeed to all things earthly. Protected against hostile arrogance and warlike invasion by an army which is ready for battle and a fleet which is growing, the farmer can, in our ordered community, till his ground, the merchant, manufacturer, and artisan can go about their business, and the workman is sure of his well-deserved hire. "There were times when it was not so in our Fatherland. For such a retrospect the year 1912, with its commemorative days, offers a favourable opportunity. Is it really 500 years since the Burgrave Frederick VI. of Nuremberg undertook his historic journey into the Mark? What importance the first step of a Hohenzollern on the territory of the Mark had for our land is now clearly presented before our eyes, when we consider the history of the Brandenburg-Prussian State of the German Empire, the common foundation of which rests deep in the territory of the Mark. In the future also—of this I am sure—the men of Brandenburg will, when King and Fatherland call, come forward as did their forbears."

GERMANY AND THE PANAMA CANAL.

American irritation increases at European criticism of the way in which the United States has violated the provisions of the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty. In Berlin, public interest throughout the discussion is just as keen as opinion is undecided. Whilst some people are undoubtedly tickled by the vision of Anglo-Saxon cousins quarrelling over half a sentence in a rather old treaty, the common sense of the Germans, together with their business acumen has compelled them to recognise that the success of England's demands means their gain. Consequently, comments have been mainly restricted to the judicial aspect of the question, where all opinion favours the British interpretation of the treaty. It may also be added that Germany would be pleased as much as any nation by a prompt settlement of the dispute. The "Berliner Zeitung" says it is indisputable and even self-apparent that America's present contention is a downright breach of the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty. It continues: "American comment regarding Anglo-Russian treatment of Persia and Germany's conduct towards Holland is irrelevant America tears up the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty because it suits her to do so The "Tageblatt" concurs, and adds that to argue that two wrongs make a right is a threadbare plea.

TSAR AND A CRYPTOGRAM MACHINE.

A despatch from St. Petersburg credits a Russian naval officer with the invention of a machine which has long been desired by all who have occasion for secret communications by means of cryptographic codes. The machine is nothing less than an electrical automatic writer of a cryptic cipher and its complement, the automatic reader of the cypher, has also already been produced. Captain Soldatenoff the inventor, recently gave an exhibition of the utility of his invention before the Czar and Czarina on board the Imperial yacht "Standart." After a short explanation from Captain Soldatenoff, the Tsaritza wrote a short ciphered message by means of the first machine, which the Czar readily deciphered by means of the second machine. The Russian Ministerial departments have already had sample machines in use, and in consequence of their general success patents have now been taken out for most European States and for America. It was when engaged on writing despatches as naval attache in Rome, and subsequently for M. Muravieff, the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, that the inventor first had the idea of a cipher machine. He was constantly finding errors and ambiguities in the different codes used, and consequently he determined to devise a code on a mathematical basis which should be, as it were, ever renewable—each succeeding message being written by a code which was a mathematical development of the code used in the preceding one. At last he compounded a code which satisfied him in this respect, as also in its clearness and infallibility. Then however, came the question of giving the invention a more practical shape, and it was decided by Captain Soldatenoff and his friend and supporter, M. Muravieff that there was nothing for it but to produce a machine which should work automatically, and which should, metaphorically speaking, hold the secret of the invention locked in its breast. With financial assistance from M. Muravieff the inventor plodded away at his self-imposed task and was undismayed as time and again machine-makers working according to his designs presented him with instruments that were quite useless. Finally, with the help of two skilled French watchmakers he produced a machine suitable for his purpose, and with a few months' further labour a presentable example of this instrument was brought before the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs. It is understood that each pair of machines has a different cipher, and that each cipher is almost if not quite impossible to translate without the aid of the complementary machine. As the cost of production is very high, however it seems probable that the machine will find use only in Government departments and in the offices of the larger business houses.

STRANGE POLICE STORY.

Two newspapers of diametrically opposite opinions appeared on Wednesday with flaming headlines accusing M. Bordes, Chief Police Commissioner at Montmartre, with having endeavoured, through a subordinate named Verneuil, to entrap Royalists and Anarchists into buying arms, with a view later of accusing them of plotting against the security of the State. The story, as told in the "Action Francaise" and the "Guerre Sociale," agrees in every point, and the following is, as briefly as possible, the extraordinary tale:—In May last year M. Verneuil began frequently the society of the "Camelots du Roy," a Royalist organisation, and proposed to sell the members arms at a cheap rate. He bought two dozen revolvers at 26s. each, and sold them to the "Camelots" at 21s. 6d. According to the "Guerre Sociale," Bordes informed M. Lepine, Prefect of Police, that he had proofs that the "camelots" were storing arms with the intention of plotting against the Republic, but M. Lepine shrugged his shoulders, and referred Bordes to the head of the detective department. This official is alleged to have given Bordes carte blanche. Then comes the story of a rifle delivered to the order of Bordes, and offered by Verneuil to both "camelots" and militant Socialists in turn. M. Almareyda, an Anarchist, kept the rifle a few days, and then returned finally it, but a "camelot," after refusing to pay £6, yieded to the temptation to pay £4 for a weapon costing over £7. Here some hiatus occurs in the narrative. For some reason Verneuil appears to have quarrelled with Bordes, and then to have gone into hiding. Meanwhile, the Socialist counter-detective service, which seems as efficient as that of the Russian Terrorists has often proved, got on the track of Verneuil, and a number of journalists were invited to the offices of the "Guerre Sociale," where they were introduced to Verneuil, who had been "keept" for a couple of days there. Verneuil made a public confession—subsequently writing a document, which is published in facsimile to-day—after which he left the room—and France—putting the frontier between himself and his former employers. He now promises circumstantial details, supported by documentary proof, of the sinister work on which he alleges he was employed. Bordes is not in Paris, but has been summoned to return by M. Steeg, Minister of the Interior.

ANOTHER KOPENICK HOAX.

In emulation of the exploits of the famous "Captain Kopenick," an audacious swindler, in the full uniform of a gendarme, carrying his rifle on his shoulder, presented himself at the treasurer's office at Bilensbach and declared he had been sent on an official inspection. The public accounts were at once submitted to him, and, after pocketing £20 and casting a glance over the books, he told the chief official they were not in order, and that he ought to arrest him. But, to avoid a scandal, the supposed gendarme directed him to present himself the following day at Heilbronn. The thief then went off with his booty, to repeat the comedy at Gagenberg. The alarm, however was given and the telephone set at work, and all the localities in the department were warned to be on the look-out for the new Captain Kopenick. At Unterheinriet the swindler was nearly caught, but used his rifle to such purpose that he got clear away. It was necessary, however, to traverse the populous locality of Beilstein, and to overcome this difficulty he arrested a tramp, whom he took handcuffed through the town, releasing him when he again reached the open country. On arriving at Geupenbach he calmly announced to the police that he was hot on the track of the swindler, and demanded to be supplied with a bicycle. A choice of machines was offered him. He selected the newest and pedalled rapidly away, and that is the last that has been heard of him up to the present.

HONOURING MISS DOSSIBAI PATEL.

To celebrate the unique successes in medical examinations, of Dr. (Miss) Dossibai R. Patel, M. D., (London), M. R. C. P. (London), a banquet was held at the Holborn Restaurant, London, on Wednesday, before the mail left. In response to the invitations issued by Messrs. N. J. Moolla and M. M. Gandevia, about 50 attended, the Parsi ladies present appearing in their becoming and picturesque costumes. Sir Dorab J. Tata was in the chair, and after the Royal toasts had been honoured, proposed the health of the chief guest in very felicitous terms. Dr. (Miss) Patel after graduating in medicine and surgery went to London in 1906. She was not only the first Indian, but the first woman of any nationality to obtain the diploma of the Conjoint Board of the London Royal Colleges of Surgeons and Physicians. The English dailies and weeklies in London duly notified in their columns this unparalleled event at the time. In 1911, she scored another record. She secured the diploma of M.R.C.P. of London an achievement by itself, but more so, as she was the first Indian lady to obtain it. This year she obtained the coveted distinction of M.D. of London University, being first amongst Parsi ladies. Sir Dorab was glad that instead of seeking service, Miss Patel proposed to start practice in Bombay, and he wished her every success in her future career. Miss Patel was received with loud cheers when she rose to reply. She dwelt upon the difficulties of Indian women students who wish to study in London, and on the prejudices which keep her sex from coming to London. She also spoke on the need of women doctors in India and observed that a complete understanding between the doctor and patient was the way to success in the noble art of healing. There is plenty of talent amongst Indian women, but they have no means. She hoped that the rich would help such women and provide for their coming to London and other European centres of education for higher studies. She thanked Mr. Dorab and the Company for their good wishes. Mr. P. C. Tarapore proposed the toast of Mr. Dadabhoy Naoroji, whose 87th birthday, it was. Mr. E. J. Khory proposed the toast of the Chairman.

NOTES FROM LONDON.

A few days afterwards Sir John Jordan, the British Minister in Peking, presented a Note to the Chinese Government, requesting them to refrain from again seeking to conquer Tibet, but saying nothing about a British representative at Lhasa. That was enough for the Radical press. To-day every Radical journal is foaming at the mouth, declaring that Sir Edward Grey seeks to create a protectorate over Tibet, and to establish a British garrison at Lhasa. These allegations are wholly untrue, but they find credence in many quarters, nevertheless, and in due course we shall hear them repeated in Parliament. My own information is that no official step has yet been taken about appointing a British representative at Lhasa. The consent of Russia must first be obtained, in any case. If a British officer is sent, the choice will assuredly fall on Major O'Connor, the British Consul-General at Kerman, who is now on leave in this country. Major O'Connor speaks the Tibetan language, and knows more about Tibet than any other living Englishman.

POONA RACES.

Governor's Cup Won by Real Gold.

WELL-BACKED HORSES WIN SIX RACES.

Saturday's racing at Poona was in every way an unrivalled success for all parties concerned, and drew a splendid attendance. The first and second enclosures were filled almost to overflowing, and long before the flag fell on any one event, the stands were packed with eager sightseers. Sir George and Lady Clarke attended, and stayed until the last race but one. The procession, when it formed up in front of the stands, was strongly reminiscent of the King's entry at Ascot, and the presence of their Excellencies gave to the proceedings that extra fillip so much desired and appreciated.

The gentler sex on Saturday were present in numbers too large to estimate, and were gowned in costumes and frocks of such beauty that their description by a mere male would be impertinent. One can only hope the complete success of the afternoon will induce ladies to continue to grace with their presence the beautiful lawns and enclosures which the executive have placed at their disposal.

Climatic conditions were not exactly all one could desire, as at the start the heat was trying and it certainly looked like being a steamy and uncomfortable four hours. Such was not however the case as after the fifth race, huge cloud-banks gathered and the air had quite a chill in it. This culminated in a brisk shower between the fifth and sixth events, which drove all the wearers of delicate confections willy-nilly to seek cover and they were followed very quickly by the sterner sex. Fortunately the shower was a slight one, and racing came to an end without any further discomfort being experienced.

The afternoon's programme was made up of seven handicaps and Mr. J. Reynolds had done his work in such capable style that the finding of winners looked anything but easy. In particular both the Governor's Cup and the Western India Stakes presented puzzles worthy of Mr. Reynolds' undoubted powers, and although the ultimate winning horses had comfortable tasks it was by no means easy to foresee the result.

The odds-laying machines answered to the investing crowd in right royal fashion, the various dials spinning for all they were worth, and faced with a total investment of one lakh and a half of rupees surely nothing more can be said regarding the overwhelming advantage of the indroduction of the machines as against bookmakers. The ease, comfort, and absence of worry with which the investing public can now conduct operations is only too noticeable from they presence of so many ladies who now make investments personally, and judging from the number "in situ" at the paying out windows after each race they are by no means bad or even indifferent judges.

Brown's fall, when riding The Loaf in the Western India Stakes was worrying to those present on the stands and his not rising after the horses had gone did not tend to improve matters in any way. It is understood that in passing the seven furlong post some senews snapped in one of the horse's legs, which caused him to strike the rails throwing Brown straight in the path of Vavasor, who had to be pulled up to prevent possible damage to the prone figure. After some minutes Brown was able to rise and walk back to the paddock, and the fact that he steered his following two mounts to victory speaks much for his courage and absence of nerves. It is anticipated that The Loaf will have to be destroyed, which will be a heavy loss to the owner, Mr. M. F. Garda. Riding France in the second race L. C. Hoyt also came to grief, but without damage to either horse or rider.

Racing commenced with the All-Pony Plate, an uninteresting race. Five faced the starter and the in and out running of these animals was not conducive to much wagering. Regalia, going well, won very easily from Kiora. The win was by four lengths and it was pleasing to be able to turn to the next event, for which eleven came under the starter's care. From a good race in which several horses showed prominence, Mr. Ali bin Talib's Nakid took the lead at the turn, and won in convincing fashion from the well backed Wireless and Zuheir.

Brown notched his second win in the third race. Criton, who had given a wretched display on the previous Saturday after being made favourite was now on his best behaviour and running in a willing fashion managed to last home from Paul Pry winning by a short head; Sequent who was strongly fancied being a head away third. A well run race and an equally well deserved victory.

THE GOVERNOR'S CUP.

This being the event of the meeting much interest was taken in the parade of the intending competitors Real Blood, who had been specially trained for this event, was given permission to walk unmounted to the starting gate; his well known objection to join the horses being quite understood. When the horses lined up he commenced his old game, and in company of Mutrood gave a fine exhibition of circus waltzing.

The flag fell to a good start and both Ali bin Talib's horses showed themselves at their best. Real Blood got away in the first flight, and held a forward position until nearing the turn when he came away and won easily by four lengths, his stable companion carefully watching gave up second place to Parliament. Without doubt Mr. Ali bin Talib could have won with either.

The Western India Stakes gave the first real upset as the falling of The Loaf, placed the two favourites completely out of court, Vavassor having to pull up. Hamara won very easily and yielded to his twenty ticket-holders a dividend of Rs. 560. It was however a badly run race and no reliance can be placed on form as regards the placed horses.

Mr. F. M. Garda's Bombastic annexed the New Plate as was expected, and in the fast fading light the old warrior Abdul Malik proved too good for the opposition, good as it was, and won quite easily by two lengths from Young Majub. Taken on the whole it was a good day's racing, and with one exception the best horses at their weights undstoubtedly won.

FOOTBALL IN BOMBAY.

First Match in Rovers' Tournament.

This year's Rovers' Tournament has had a very unfortunate commencement. The thick dust storm and the rain, which came up about half past five on Saturday evening, synchronised almost exactly with the commencement of the first match of the first round. The ground soon became in a dreadful condition, and at half time it was decided that the game could not go further. By then the York and Lancaster Regt. had scored two goals and the R. G. A., Bombay, had obtained one. It was still raining hard when the match was over, and although the crowd was not large a number of people were weather bound, at the stand as it was very difficult to obtain gharries. On account of the scratching of the King's Royal Rifles and the Inniskillings the draw will now be as follows:—

First Round.

1. R. G. A. vs. York and Lancs.
2. Royal Irish 'A' vs. Hornets (bye).
3. Loyal North Lancs. vs. Bombay Athletics.
4. Cheshires vs. R. F. A. (Kirkee.)
5. Dorsets vs. Inniskilling Fusiliers (bye)
6 Colaba Swifts vs. G. I. P. Ry.
7. B. Gymkhana vs. Royal Irish "B"
8 Royal Warwicks (bye)

Second Round.

9. Winners of 7 vs. Winners of 4.
10. „ of 6 vs. Dorsets.
11. „ of 1 vs. Hornets.
12. „ of 3 vs. R. Warwicks.

Semi-Final.

13. Winners of 12 vs. Winners of 11.
14. „ of 9 vs. „ of 10.

Final.

15. Winners of 13 vs. Winners of 14.

RUGBY IN CALCUTTA.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, Sept. 22.

In the replayed semi-final of the Calcutta Rugby Challenge Cup, the West Ridings beat the Leicesters by forty-four points to nil. The latter were playing without Haughan, Cooper and Serg. Green. The match was played in the best spirit, the West Riding compiling their score from eight goals (two dropped) and two tries.

SHOOTING AT BANGALORE.

Regulars Beat Volunteers by Four Points.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

BANGALORE, Sept. 21.

It has rained here steadily all night, starting about ten o'clock yesterday evening, and not stopping till after eight this morning, by which time the Volunteer vs. Regular match had begun. At the finish at 300 yards, the Volunteers led by four points, which they increased to five at 600 yards. By this time the wind had sprung up, and begun to bother those shooting, and by the time 900 yards was reached, it had become very difficult, coming from the left front and being very variable in strength. At this range, the regulars finished first, Sergt Templeton of the Camerons, who had not done well at 300 yards or 600 yards making a possible of central bulls, a very fine performance, especially when the conditions are considered. As soon as the Regulars finished, calculations were made and it was soon found that the Volunteers, who had not done very well, could not pass the Regulars' total, even if every shot to go was a bull. The Volunteers were not long finishing, and it was then found that they had scored nine less than the Regulars at this range. The Regulars therefore won by four points. The only Bombay men shooting were Q. M. S. Soundy, B. V. R. and Corpl. Holley, G. I. P.

The only other contests were for the Nagpara Chal Nagpur Challenge Cup, a mixed rapid deliberate shoot for members of the Indian Army, and the Pistol Stakes. In the former of these, five out of the six teams committed irregularities, and no award is to be made, until the committee have given their decision on these. The prizes will be distributed to-day by Mrs. Wapshare, the wife of Major-General Wapshare, commanding the Bangalore Brigade.

TRAMWAY FARES.

Continuance of Present Arrangements Recommended.

COMMISSIONER'S LETTER.

THE buying of Tramway fares at the existing rates is in force upto the end of the present month. The Municipal Commissioner has asked the Corporation to consider the proposals of the Tramway Company contained in the letter addressed to the Commissioner by the Managing Director of the Company. The whole correspondence on the subject is circulated to councillors for consideration at to-day's meeting of the Corporation as urgent business.

Writing on the subject the Municipal Commissioner states:

It will be remembered that the point principally disputed has been whether the Company should be allowed to charge the 1 1-2 anna fare between their District No. 1 and their District No. 3, or whether they should be restricted to charging the one anna fare from any one point to any other point on the lines as they existed when they were taken over from the old company by the new company. This point is really a very minor one. It is quite true that a section of the population living around Byculla have had, under the new arrangement, to pay 1 1-2 annas, where they originally had to pay the one anna fare. It is, however, obvious that there is no particular virtue in living in one portion of the town, which would entitle its inhabitants to ride further in the public tramways for a given fare than the residents in other portions of the town could do: such an anomaly would immediately result if the persons living near the old lines were allowed the one anna fare, while persons living just beyond them on the new lines had to pay 1 1-2 annas for perhaps a shorter distance. The inhabitants of the favoured area would have no inherent right to the continuance of any such anomaly and its removal by the Corporation would be sooner or later inevitable. What is clearly necessary is a reasonable fare which would cover an approximately uniform distance. The present financial condition of the Company appears to me to affect the question very slightly. If the uniform fare is to be a reasonable one, it should be one that would enable the Company to carry the passengers at such a mileage rate as should permit of a fair profit. The only system that would permit of uniformity is, I venture to believe, the division of the Tramway System, or rather of the Island so far as it includes that system, into zones of practically uniform size. This would ensure an equal fare for an equal distance which is the first object to be obtained. But it would have the very great additional advantage of allowing extensions to be pressed upon the Company with almost automatic effect as soon as they appeared necessary. If the old arrangement of fares is reverted o, it will be necessary to bargain with the Company or the fare to be charged on each proposed extenion, and it will be impossible for the Company to ay out any programme of extension, when they annot be sure of what rate would be allowed for ach extension as it came into existence. The delays nd obstacles that would thereby be thrown in the ay of extensions would be from every point of iew regrettable, since it is generally agreed that he attraction of the population to the northern art of the Island would diminish the sanitary vils at present existing, and is the only possible irection in which expansion both of industry and opulation can possibly take place. When xamining the zone division proposed by the ompany, it is necessary to see what extensions re contemplated. In the letter of 31st May. he Managing Director proposed the continuation of he Free Road Tram line, along the new Junction oad, and the Reay Road, as far as Victoria Road, and nto the New Cotton Green. A new line would run om Parel Road down Victoria Road to connect with his line the other extension is from Parel Road down andhurst Road and over Elphinstone Bridge to the ocks, when the road has been made through Naoroji ill. This programme of extensions appeared somehat disappointing, and the Managing Director now ritesthat the Company would be willing, if the fares uestion is settled, to extend from Byculla Bridge ong DeLisle Road to Elphinstone Road. This ould be an exceedingly valuable extension, as it ould bring a large mill district, and the rapidly eveloping areas of Parel and Mahim west of the lway lines in touch with the Tramway system.

DESIRABLE EXTENSIONS.

Other extensions are clearly desirable. The Tram e should be extended to Gowalia Tank. either m the Girgaum Terminus over Kennedy Bridge, from the Grant Road Terminus over Frere Bridge. new line should run the whole length of Sandrst Road, and not merely from Parel Road to re Road. The line should be extended from the sent Parel Terminus done Vincent Road. The y Road line should be extended not merely to toria Road, but as far as Kalachowki Road. tram line should perhaps be extended from the zagon Terminus along Mount Road to join the posed line in Victoria Road. But the fact t so many extensions are desirable makes it the e necessary that there should be a zone em which would obviate prolonged negoion and contention as each case arose. will be understood that the Company now pose five zones, whereby a passenger can travel 1 to 3, or 2 to 4, or 3 to 5, for 1 anna, and 1 to 4, or 1 to 5' or 2 to 5 for 1 1-2 annas. The s seem fairly divided, and I recommend them e consideration of the Corporation. It may uggested that smaller zones should be possible half anna fares. The reduction of the unit w one penny has been found very inconvenient the United Kingdom, and in view of complications that would be involved in of the transfer system here permitted, I cannot mmend any reduction of the unit below one a. In order to prevent changes that may be ely temporary, I would beg to recommend the inuance of the existing arrangements until the osal of the question by the Corporation."

CAUSE OF DELAY.

n his letter to the Commissioner the Managing gineer, of the Tramway Company, stated:

With reference to your letter No. 10493 of 4th y last enclosing a copy of the Corporation solution No. 1967 of 27th June, I now have the our to hand you herewith a letter, dated 31st y last, addressed to you by the Managing Director his Company and in which you will find set out views of my Board upon the question of extenns to our Tramway Routes and upon the revision our System of Tramway Fares. The delay in ding you this letter has been caused by the inforl negotiations which have taken place between us, d by the subsequent correspondence with my ard, as a result of which I now have pleasure in orming you that subject to a satisfactory settlent of the Fares question being arrived my Board would be prepared, in addin to the extensions outlined in the closed letter, to make an extension from culla Bridge along DeLisle Road as far as Elphinne Road, as soon as the proposed over-bridge r the level crossing of the B. B. and C. I. Raily is completed. As the sanction given to the sting arrangement of fares terminates on the 30th t. and as our Managing Director is expected in mbay early in the cold weather I am instructto suggest that in order to avoid confusion the sting fares be allowed to continue until he has an opportunity of giving personally to the Tramys Committee the Board's views on the various estions involved."

THE MANAGING DIRECTOR'S LETTER.

The Managing Director's letter ran as follows:—

"Referring to my letter No. 1442, dated 6th rch last, applying for the extension for a ther period of three years from the 1st April 12 of the arrangement arrived at with the Corration in 1910 dividing this Company's tramy lines into three zones and making the fare tween any two adjacent zones one anna, and tween zones 1 and 3 one and a half anna, the rectors of this Company have now been advised m Bombay that the Tramways Committee of Corporation have recommended the Corporation extend the said arrangement for period of six nths only, and that the Committee desire that should meanwhile inform them what extensions our present track we have in view and what aring these will have on the question of our fares. e have further received from Bombay copy of a emorial addressed to the Municipal Corporation to hich the signatures of certain inhabitants of mbay have, we understand, been obtained, and purpose of which is to dissuade the Corporation m entering into any prolongation of the arrangent above referred to. The spirit in which this memorial has been drafted is a singularly narrow one, nor is it free from the "suggestio falsi." For example, in paragraph 6 it is implied that the alternative to the existing tariff of fares would be the obligatory adoption by the Company of a "one anna uniform fare." This, of course, is not so. The Company would continue to charge both one anna and one and a half anna fares, the only alteration being as to the sections of the line to which these would respectively apply. It is obvious that, as insisted on in the said memorial, the Corporation can, if it so pleases, exact rigid adherence to the provision of the Deed of Concession requiring maintenance of a one anna fare on the lines taken over by the new from the old Tramway Company, but it is equally obvious that it is optional with the Corporation to relax that obligation if, in view of certain undertakings on the part of the Company, it seems equitable and advantageous to do so. As is pointed out in the Report of the Tramways Committee of the Corporation the Company has undertaken so long as the present fare tariff remains in force;—(1) Not to abolish or enhance the half fares charged to children under ten years of age: (2) to relax the transfer regulations which were previously enforced so as to give greater facilities to passengers in their choice of routes; and (3) to issue transfer as well as direct tickets to children paying half fares.

THE ZONE SYSTEM.

The principle of the zone system has been adopted by numerous Tramway Companies working in this country including Companies owned and operated by Municipalities, and one of its great advantages is that it automatically fixes the fares both on existing lines and on future extensions. One result of the abolishing of that system would be that the Company would not be able to undertake in future any extensions of its lines without first negotiating with the Corporation as to the fares to be charged thereon, and should an agreement not be reached the making of extensions could not be proceeded with. Another undesirable result of the abolition of the zone system would be that if and when extensions of our lines are made inequalities must arise between the fares charged on these and those charged on the lines taken over from the former Company, even in cases when the old and new lines were parallel. The Directors of this Company, therefore, submit that it is extremely desirable, in the interest of all parties, that not only should be zone system be retained, but that a "permanent" arrangement of the zone boundaries be now arrived at which as above stated, will automatically fix the fares not only on the existing lines but on future extensions of them which the Corporation may, with the approval of Government sanction. The only objection having any validity which can be raised to the present zone demarcation is that the middle section is considerably narrower in width than the other two, and that consequently residents at Byculla are thereby penalised. With a view to meeting this objection the Company are willing to subdivide the existing Northern and Southern zones into two areas, leaving the centre zone unchanged. We are willing to subdivide the Southern zone by a line drawn along Church Gate Street and therefore passing through the Floral Fountain and Elphinstone Circle. We are similarly willing to subdivide the Northern zone by a line passing through Jacob's Circle, the junction of Clerk and DeLisle Roads, the Victoria Gardens Gateway and the junction of Tank Bunder and Reay Roads. This sub-division to our existing Tramway system into five zones instead of three zones will have an important effect on fares as our proposal is that the fare within any three zones shall be one anna—in other words, instead of that fare applying only to any two adjacent zones as at present, it shall allow of crossing any one intermediate zone. This offer, it is needless to point out proffers an exceedingly wide concession on the Company's part for the purpose of meeting any alleged discontent with the present zone demarcation. For example. a passenger entering a car at the Victoria Gardens can at present travel as far as Pydhoni only for one anna. Under the proposed division he will be able to travel all the way to Church Gate Street for that fare. Similarly, a passenger now entering a car at Jacob's Circle, who can at present travel to Pydhoni only for one anna, will be able to travel as far South as Church Gate Street for that fare. Subject to the maintenance of the zone system as thus modified, my Company is willing, so soon as the extension of the Frere Road into Reay Road is completed, to extend its present Frere Road line along the Reay Road as far as the Victoria Road with a view to it thence entering the Reclamation over the proposed overbridge. The constructions of this line is of course conditional upon the Port Trust allowing this extension to enter the Reclamation from the Reay Road, as we understand that they are willing and anxious it should do. So soon as this line is laid the Company is further willing to lay a connecting line between it and the Parel Road line via Victoria Road. The effect of these two extensions will be to place the Reclamation in Tramway communication with both the Fort and the Northern districts of the City. Ultimately an extension between the Buendi Bazar and Frere Road via the new Sandhurst Road will similarly provide communication with the central districts of the City. Under the zone system as it is now proposed to modify it, passengers will be able to travel from the proposed terminus of our lines in the Reclamation to Churchgate Street for one anna. I think that what I have written above evidences the desire of the Directors of this Company to treat this important question of fares in a broad and conciliatory spirit and past experience justifies their expectations that the Corporation will also deal with it in the same spirit. The Bombay Tramway service can safely challenge comparison with the most up to date services provided elsewhere, while the fares charged upon it are comparatively exceedingly low. Under the fare tariff now in force our average receipts per passenger for the year 1911 were 1-01 anna. On 39 Tramways working in this country and its Colonies (to the annual reports of which I have had access) I find that the average receipts per passenger were 1-25 anna while at Calcutta they were 1-46 anna per passenger.

FINANCIAL POSITION.

The Directors are not prepared to see our average receipts per passenger fall below one anna and if the Corporation should decide that the fares are to revert to what they stood at before the present arrangement was entered into then, the Company will be compelled to withdraw the half fares now allowed to children and to make this abolition apply to both direct and transfer tickets. Reference having been made by the Tramways Committee of the Corporation to the relative financial position of this Company now and in 1910, it seems desirable to remind the Committee what that present financial position really is. After six years of working without being able to pay any dividend on its ordinary shares the Company earned last year just sufficient balance of profit to enable the Directors to recommend payment of a three per cent. Dividend on those shares. Or, if the entire subscribed capital of the Company both Share and Debenture be regarded then the average payment of divided and interest in respect thereof will (assuming a dividend of three per cent. on the ordinary shares be sanctioned by the Share Holders), work out at 4-5 per cent. This can hardly be regarded as an adequate return upon an industrial enterprise. And even this result was only achieved on the fare tariff to which exception is now being taken—a material consideration which we are confident the Corporation will not overlook. Moreover, the Company if it is to carry out its full potential mission of usefulness to the public of Bombay, has a large capital outlay still ahead of it. Apart, therefore, from any question of fairness to the Company, it is to the interest of the City that the questions now at issue be regarded from a broad and equitable standpoint." P. S.—Referring to para. 11 above, it is of course intended that the maximum fare between our present termini shall remain one and a half anna.

HEAT PROSTRATION.

Its Treatment and Cure.

Exposure to heat may cause faintness or exhaustion, or may produce still more serious effects on the brain and nervous system, including excitement, unconsciousness, and, if very severe, death from asphyxia.

In the event of an attack, the sufferer should be removed to the shade, his tight clothing loosened and cold water applied to the head. As soon as possible, he should be taken home, and, if the face be flushed and the skin hot, cold water and ice, if it can be obtained, should be applied over the head and body, and medical aid should be sought. These instructions are based on the writing of that great authority on the preservation of life in India, Sir Joseph Fayrer, but they are, of course, the merest outline of what should be done. Still, their prompt carrying out may save life, and they should, therefore, be kept prominently in mind by everyone to be made use of when necessary.

After the immediate results of the exposure have been counteracted, the question of diet, on which the maintenance of the sufferer's life and health depends, is the one which demands consideration It is obvious that when weakened, as all the natural forces are, the stomach and digestive organs generally are in no condition to deal with the ordinary articles of diet, many of which impose a tax on the digestion. The food should, therefore, be of the blandest and most nutritious character, so as to put the least possible strain on the digestive organs. At the same time, the diet should be as revitalising and restorative as possible.

THE QUICKEST RESTORATIVE.

It needs no great knowledge of dietetics to appreciate the fact that relatively few articles combine these two necessary and important qualities. One, however, does fulfil these two requirements in a supremely advantageous manner. This is Sanatogen. Composed of the body-building part of the purest milk, chemically combined with that salt of phosphorus which is found in the nervous system, it is one of the blandest—as it is the most nutritious—revitalising and reinvigorating foods known to Science. Its use is, in many cases, followed by such a sensation of well-being that a well-known writer has described it in the words, "Almost immediately after taking it, I feel as though a stream of liquid life has been poured into me."

Even those people who do not re-act so rapidly to its benefits very soon experience a sensation of strength and revitalization which are particularly gratifying after the feeling of utter prostration and lack of tone which are so characteristic of the results of heat. In this connection the following letter from Mr. Thomas Lynn, Calcutta, will be read with particular interest, for it shows how Sanatogen enables even those who have to fight against the effects of heat when their bodily forces are weakened by disease derive immediate health and strength from the preparation.

AND THE SUREST, TOO.

Mr. Lynn writes:—"I was a broken-down wreck of a man as far as health goes, and had been a martyr to malaria for four years, being constantly in the hands of the doctors, and becoming weaker and weaker, with the natural run-down condition and its accompaniments, brain fag, nervousness and dyspepsia. Everybody advised me to go to the hills for some months; but this was impossible. Sanatogen was strongly recommended by a friend, and I am delighted to say that only two bottles have made an extraordinary difference for the better—nay, for the best. I shall always highly recommend Sanatogen everywhere I go. You will readily understand what a boon such an invigorator of life is to people out in the tropics, who have the awful heat to fight against. This is verily the land of breakdowns, hence there are many thousands who appreciate what Sanatogen has placed within their reach—'A new lease of life.'"

Sanatogen may be obtained at all chemists and bazaars.

IMPROVEMENT TRUST ACT.

Municipal Corporation and the Amendment Bill.

In continuation of his letter, dated 12th August regarding the City of Bombay Improvement Trust Amendment Bill, the Government Secretary in the Legal Department has forwarded to the Corporation a copy of the report of the Select Committee and of the Bill as amended by them and stated that he was directed to make the following observations regarding the views of the Governor-in-Council as at present advised, on the clauses mentioned in the Municipal letter:

Clauses 6 and 7.—The 1st suggestion has been practically accepted already.

For the reasons already given in Council the second proposal cannot be entertained.

Clause 8.—The suggestion has already been considered and negatived by the Select Committee.

2nd proposal.—Government are not disposed to accept this proposal as it might be prejudicial to the Trust, and it would certainly be most troublesome to furnish details of the cost of each and every property. It is understood that such information as can conveniently be furnished by the Trust has always been supplied in the past.

Clause 10.—The provision asked for by the Corporation has been included in Clause 10, which has been considerably modified in Select Committee; and it now appears to be a thoroughly workable scheme.

Clause 13.—This clause contains provisions of great importance. It is believed that the clause has been considerably improved by the Select Committee, and that possible objections to the clause, as it stood in the Bill have been already dealt with; and that it now constitutes a marked improvement on the set back provisions in the Municipal Act.

Clause 17.—Government are not aware that any case has been made out for the abolition of the Tribunal; and they believe that the original grounds on which this machinery for the decision of acquisition cases was after full consideration and discussion adopted in 1898 still hold good. In any event it is not desirable that an alteration that would affect the High Court and unsettle one of the main principles of the original Act should be introduced at this stage in a Bill of this nature.

Clause 19.—(1) Government are at present disposed to accept this amendment if it is proposed, after giving due notice, by a representative of the Corporation.

(2) Has now been provided for.

(3) Has been considered and negatived by the Select Committee.

Clause 23.—1st Proposal. Action has been taken by the Select Committee.

2nd Proposal. Government are at present disposed to accept an amendmet to this effect, if proposed after due notice by a representative of the Corporation. An amendment might also be made in Section 45 (3), the words "as an open space" being inserted between "maintenance," and "at" in that section.

Clause 28. (1).—Has been considered and negatived by the Select Committee.

(2) Has been accepted by the Select Committee.

(3) Has been accepted by the Select Committee.

Clauses 29 and 31.—1st Proposal—The compromise approved by the Select Committee appears to be fair and suitable.

2nd Proposal.—The finding or providing for resources to enable the Trust to carry out their Improvement Schemes is an executive measure which cannot find a place in the Bill.

Clause 33.—Government are at present disposed to accept this amendment if proposed after due notice by a representative of the Corporation.

Clauses 35 and 24.—The last proposal in the letter has been practically accepted by the Select Committee.

2. With reference to the suggestion that the Corporation were inadequately consulted in regard to the preparation of the Bill I am to observe that in regards to the financial questions which are the questions of chief interest to the Corporation, the Corporation well fully consulted, and their proposals have been included in the Bill. Moreover the remaining provisions of the Bill are largely taken from the Bill of 1907, on which the Corporation were consulted. Again the provisions in the Bill are chiefly based on the proposals of a Committee of the Board on which the Corporation were represented. The Municipal Commissioner was also specially consulted. Again on the Select Committee there were representatives of the Corporation; and it is clear from the remarks made above on the various clauses that the views of the Corporation were in many cases placed before the Select Committee and approved by them Finally the Bill was forwarded for the consideration of the Corporation on 21st April, 1912.

VETARZO BRAIN AND NERVE FOOD
This remarkable compound, the latest discovery of modern times for all phases of brain and nerve wreckage and exhaustion, sleeplessness, tremblings, palpitation, nervous dyspepsia, low spirits, mental and bodily prostration, muscular and local weakness, general and nervous debility, faulty nutrition, premature decay or deficiency of the vital forces, impaired vitality, harassing dreams, night disturbances, sudden startings, dimness of sight, defective hearing, loss of memory, inability to perform the various duties of life, or to enjoy its pleasures, restlessness that can settle to nothing, irritability of temper, female complaints, hysteria, painful periods, backache, bearing down sensations, nervous headache, wasting disease, night sweats, &c., whether induced by worry, overwork, unhealthy climate, dissipation, excesses, or other influences incidental to the wear and tear and haste or overstrain of modern life. Bracing up the system generally, it gives tone to the exhausted nerves, arrests all weakening wasting discharges, restores the failing energies, and imparts new life and vigour to those who had so recently seemed played out, "used up," and valueless.
VETARZO BLOOD MEDICINE
Never before was there anything like it, nor can its marvellous properties ever be equalled in all cases of poorness, impurity, or other imperfection of the blood from whatever cause arising. No sooner is it imbibed into the system than it permeates and penetrates to the minutest capillaries, overcoming and expelling the virus of disease, wheresoever and in whatsoever form met with; removing all blotches, pimples, scurf, scurvy, scrofulous and glandular swellings, discolorations, roughness and unsightly patches, &c. Its effects are almost magical in the treatment of gout, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, pains and swellings of the joints, discharges, blood poison, secondary symptoms, eczema, lepra, psoriasis, bad legs, bad breasts, abscesses, ulcers, wounds, sores, goitre or Derbyshire neck, it improves the general health, and quickly removes long-standing bronchitis, asthma, and hacking, straining, spasmodic cough, too often the precursor of consumption.
CAUTION.—Ask for "VETARZO Brain and Nerve Food," or "VETARZO Blood Medicine," whichever is required, and see that you get them, as unprincipled vendors often try to palm off inferior preparations (usually their own manufacture), for the sake of extra profit. LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL

THE PUREST. THE MOST PALATABLE. THE MOST DIGESTIBLE.
THE MOST EFFICACIOUS.

Incontestably proved by Forty Years' Medical Experience to be The only Cod Liver Oil which produces the full curative effects in CONSUMPTION AND DISEASES OF THE CHEST, THROAT AFFECTIONS, GENERAL DEBILITY, DISEASES OF THE SKIN, WASTING DISEASES OF CHILDREN, RICKETS, AND ALL SCROFULOUS DISORDERS.

SELECT MEDICAL OPINIONS.

DR. PROSSER JAMES,
Lecturer on Materia Medica, London Hospital.

"Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL contains the whole of the active ingredients of the remedy, and is easily digested. Hence its value, not only in Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, but in a great number of cases to which the Profession is extending its use."

DR. HUNTER SEMPLE,
Physician to the Hospital for Diseases of the Throat and Chest, London.

"I have long been aware of the great reputation enjoyed by the LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL introduced into medical practice by Dr. DE JONGH, and have recommended it with the utmost confidence. I have no hesitation in stating my opinion, that it possesses all the qualities of a good and efficient medicine. Its taste is by no means disagreeable, and might even be called pleasant. I have found Dr. DE JONGH'S OIL very useful in cases of Chronic Cough, and especially in Laryngeal Disease complicated with Consumption."

DR. SAUNDERS, C.B.,
Late Deputy-Inspector-General Army Hospitals, Superintendent London Medical Mission.

"I have used Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL extensively among the sick poor of St. Giles's, and consider it a valuable remedy, especially in the Wasting Diseases of Children."

DR. WHITMORE,
Medical Officer of Health, St. Marylebone, London.

"My own somewhat lengthened experience as a Medical Practitioner enables me with confidence to recommend Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT BROWN COD LIVER OIL as being more uniform in quality, more certain in its effects, more palatable, and infinitely less likely to disagree with the stomach than the Pale Oil. If I were asked for an explanation of the marked success which for so many years has attended the administration of Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL, I should say that it is owing to its extraordinary medicinal, dietetic, and regiminal properties, and which are found to exist in no other medicine that I am acquainted with, in such uniform combination.

Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL is supplied ONLY in IMPERIAL Half-Pints, Pints and Quarts, sealed with BETTS' Patent Capsule impressed on the top with Dr. DE JONGH'S Stamp, and on the side with his Signature, and the Signature of ANSAR, HARFORD & Co.; and bearing under the wrapper a Label with the same Stamp and Signatures. WITHOUT THESE MARKS NONE CAN POSSIBLY BE GENUINE.

Sold by all respectable Chemists, Druggists, and Storekeepers throughout the World.

DR. DE ROOS' MEDICINES HAVE AN UNRIVALLED REPUTATION OF OVER FIFTY YEARS.

DR. DE ROOS'

WORLD-FAMED

GUTTÆ VITÆ

Or, LIFE DROPS.

The Great European Remedy for Nervous and Functional Exhaustion.

This extraordinary rejuvenating essence strengthens the vitality of the whole system, gives energy to the muscles, and speedily restores the impaired powers of life, imparting strength and vigour to the most debilitated and worn out constitution. Those who suffer from premature decay, or deficiency of the vital forces, owing to dissipation, worry, overwork, excesses, or any other cause, will find this medicine just what they require. Equally adapted for the studious and sedentary; the aged and infirm: the nervous and debilitated; as also for delicate females and weakly children. All sufferers from loss of appetite, nervous headache, lassitude, and despondency—too often accompanied with suicidal thoughts—should make immediate and fair unprejudiced trial of this wonderful medicine, which is daily effecting the most remarkable cures in patients who had been given up by the Faculty as incurable, and left to drag out the remainder of their existence a misery to themselves, and a continual anxiety to their friends. In all cases of nervous and functional debility, epilepsy, impurity and poorness of the blood, aversion to and incapacity for society, study, or business, giddiness, disturbed sleep, harassing dreams, loss of memory, and other symptoms, the result of self-acquired ailments that embitter and shorten life, it is truly unrivalled. To married persons especially, this preparation will prove invaluable, giving strength and vigour in place of lassitude and incompetency. Price 11s., or four times that quantity, 33s. per Bottle.

DR. DE ROOS' COMPOUND RENAL PILLS, for Pains in the Back, Gravel, Lumbago, Gout, Rheumatism, Diabetes, and all Kidney Affections; weakness across the loins, Sandy or other Deposits, Discharges and Diseases of the Urinary Organs generally. Price 2s. 9d.

DR. DE ROOS' VEGETABLE LIFE PILLS, for Indigestion, Biliousness, and all disorders of the Liver, Stomach, and Bowels; whilst as a universal family medicine for both sexes, and all ages, they are unequalled. Price 13½d. and 2s. 9d.

Purchasers are particularly requested to see that every package of Dr. DE ROOS' Medicines bears the British Government Stamp, with the words, "WALTER DE ROOS, LONDON," impressed thereon, and refuse worthless imitations frequently put forward by unscrupulous vendors for the sake of extra profit.

Debilitated and Nervous Sufferers should read the "Medical Adviser," by Dr. De Roos, on the secret causes of nervous debility, impotency, depression of spirits, and confirmed melancholy. Price 1s., post free from Mr. Lawes, Medical Publisher, 14, Hand Court, Holborn, London, W.C., or of the Agents for Dr. De Roos' Medicines.
